AGENDA

The Changing Face of Organized Crime in South Eastern Europe: Trends and Developments

03 - 04 May 2011

The purpose of the Conference is to serve as a forum for open and constructive discussion on joint cross-border cooperation among SEE countries in tackling organized crime threats which endanger the overall security of the region and hinder economic growth and development opportunities. It will provide a broader platform for sharing information and best practices, supporting in that way the capacity building of SEE countries in synchronizing their counteraction against organized crime new trends and evolution, through upgraded international law enforcement cooperation.

The objectives are:

- To depict the regional dimension of organized crime threat as a serious obstacle to development and security of the region, assessing the national characteristics of each country involved
- To highlight the national policies of SEE countries on tackling organised crime which, by increasingly transcending national boundaries, represents one of the major threats to security and therefore requires coordinated action at the international level
- To identify legislative needs and challenges within the context of a more effective approach to fighting organized crime
- To share experiences and best practices in police, customs and inter-governmental support in countering organized crime throughout South East Europe.
