Aeronautical Search And Rescue

23 - 25 May 2011

AGENDA

RACVIAC - Centre for Security Cooperation, Danish Defense Command and the Ministry of Defense of the Republic of Serbia recognize the importance of aeronautical SAR as one of the security issues that should be further discussed and explored. This conference will bring together national representatives from the region with knowledge and experience in supporting the SAR capacity building in SEE countries, providing thus a broader platform and a common framework for sharing information and best practices.

Objectives are:

- to make an overview on SAR;
- to present national legal basis and documents for providing aeronautical SAR services;
- to discuss the roles of governmental institutions and non-government organizations involved in SAR activities and their coordination;
- to present the functioning and duties of rescue coordination bodies and other coordinating facilities;
- to discuss on-scene coordination and tactical command of military resources;
- to help to define and simplify the procedures for requesting mutual assistance among countries in aeronautical search and rescue;
- to initiate the establishment of an aeronautical search and rescue functional network in SEE;
- to enhance mutual assistance among search and rescue services, and to optimize the use of search and rescue resources in case of disasters with a view to meeting the challenges.
