AGENDA

Conference on Investigative Journalism and Data Protection

29 - 31 May 2012

The conference is a follow-up activity to the conference on public media and security in SEE, held at RACVIAC in November 2011. The idea of this event is to continue with promotion and increasing cooperation by using dialogue and exchanges of information, knowledge transfer, views and ideas, with the aim of disseminating international standards related to investigative journalism and data protection and building a more open, transparent and stable environment in the SEE region.

The objectives are:

- To analyze and survey the relationship between the public media and security;
- To explore the role of the public media in crisis management operations, in the context of different specific topics;
- To promote respecting and obeying data protection principles;
- To promote freedom of expression standards and capacity building in the field of the public media;
- To foster media pluralism and to support cooperation between regional public media services and state institutions;
- To share information, views, and experience from the past as well as the latest information concerning security issues;
- To enhance regional cooperation on the path towards European integration of all South East Europe.
